Live Webinar: ‘Current State of Impairment Testing’ for FEI Members only

Recent capital markets volatility as a result of economic disruptions and uncertainty related to coronavirus and the oil market shock has moved impairment testing to the forefront for many reporting entities. Join our webinar during which our experts will provide an overview of the impairment testing process and share their insights on market trends and developments across the valuation landscape.

Participants of the webinar will learn:

- Introduction to Impairment Testing: What is the order and process, and how does it differ based on indefinite-lived versus long-lived assets versus goodwill?
- Updates to Codification: Accounting Alternative and Step II Elimination.
- Presentation of a “real world” example.
